MACHINE LEARNING

By applying Machine learning technology, we are making the world a better place with our predictive decision making. We have worked on number of problems and created systems that are helping our customers predict future trends. We have worked for Oil & Gas and banking industry. We have worked in NPL (Natural Language Processing) technology as well.

For improved decision making customer need for the ML technology is growing and so do our expertise in this technology. Our ML engineers are helping our customers with self-learning solutions and making their life simpler.

OFFICE 365

We can integrate your office 365 with Skype and SharePoint. We can even integrate 3rd party/bespoke applications with O365 to provide our customers with seamless integrated solution with single sign-on. Integrated solution will help reduce storage cost by reducing data duplication, makes workflow management simpler and easy to manage.

DEVOLPS SERVICES

At Logic Powered Solutions we enable better collaboration between the development and the operations teams. Our devops services help bridge the gap between developers and operations during software development to increase productivity and efficiency of workflows. Our devops services seamlessly automate the operations of applications in the cloud or on-premise, so that you can focus on your business.

For us Devops is all about people, process and technology and ultimately bring value to our customers. Our expertise helps our customers to define processes and implement them using standardized tools and technology. We also offer these tools as readily available managed services.
